

“Capri Holdings’ response” 21 March 2025

While we previously had a relationship with this supplier, we no longer do business with them. From time to time Michael Kors needs to wind down business relationships with suppliers, whether because our production needs change and/or because a supplier fails to meet our standards or performance expectations. Michael Kors is committed to principles of ethical business and responsible purchasing practices. Compliance with all relevant laws, including those regarding workers' wages, is a core requirement of our Code of Conduct for Business Partners, by which we require all supply chain partners to abide.
