YEONG CHIN MACHINERY INDUSTRIES CO., LTD.
Reaffirms Compliance with International Regulations and Taiwan Government Policies

Official Statement in Response to the Inquiry from Business & Human Rights Resource Centre Regarding the War & Sanctions Database

June 16, 2026

To whom it may concern:

YEONG CHIN MACHINERY INDUSTRIES CO., LTD. (“YCM” or the “Company”) appreciates the inquiry from Business & Human Rights Resource Centre (“BHRRC”) and the opportunity to provide clarification and a formal response regarding the matters raised.

YCM has always placed great importance on export compliance, sanctions regulations, corporate responsibility, and human rights-related matters. The Company has not engaged in any illegal export activities. YCM does not support, authorize, or knowingly facilitate the use of its products for illegal exports, violations of sanctions or export control regulations, or any activities that may be associated with human rights abuses.

About BHRRC’s inquiry concerning YCM-branded machine tools listed in the database established by the Defense Intelligence of Ukraine and allegedly associated with Russia-related facilities, YCM has taken note of the relevant information. BHRRC’s inquiry specifically referred to the MV66A model. Upon reviewing the publicly available database, YCM also noted that several other YCM models are listed in the database.

Based on the information currently available from the public database and BHRRC’s inquiry, YCM confirms that the MV66A model was discontinued at the end of 2015, and the Company has had no subsequent manufacturing or sales activities for this model. With respect to the other models appearing in the publicly available information, YCM’s review indicates that these models were sold in 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2019 in accordance with the export regulations applicable at the time, and were general-purpose machine tools intended for ordinary commercial and industrial use.

YCM has consistently complied with applicable laws and regulations, including Taiwan’s export control requirements for strategic high-tech commodities and relevant international export control principles. In line with the expanded export control measures adopted by the Taiwan government, YCM has fully suspended the sale of machine tools to Russia since 2023, and also suspended any related software updates and spare parts services in the same year.

In addition, YCM strictly reviews any equipment or spare parts transactions that may potentially be directed to Russia, including but not limited to transactions involving third countries or other indirect routes of transfer to Russia. The Company has continued to monitor such risks to date.

YCM will continue to strengthen its internal compliance management mechanisms, ensure the effective implementation of export compliance procedures, and take necessary measures to prevent the improper diversion, resale, or unauthorized use of its products.

YCM reaffirms that the Company will continue to comply with Taiwan government policies, applicable international standards, and principles of corporate responsibility, and will address export compliance, sanctions regulations, and human rights-related matters in a prudent and responsible manner.

Sincerely,

YEONG CHIN MACHINERY INDUSTRIES CO., LTD.
